Covington, Ohio, Dec. 27, 1853.

"My wife has been afflicted with the Liver Combinint and Dyspepsia for a number of years, during mich time I have spent a great deal for doctoring ut she received sory little benefit therefrom, and finally the doctors said she could not be cured. Last spring she concluded to try floofand's German litters; she took two bottles, and ever since taking them she has been able to attend to her business. I have sold quite a number of bottles through her recommendation, and as far as I can learn, it has given satisfaction to all." Covington, Ohio, Dec. 27, 1853

THE BRITISH PERIODICALS. PREMIUMS TO NEW SUBSCRIBERS!

L. SCOTT & CO., NEW YORK, continue to put the following leading British Periodicals, viz THE LONDON QUARTERLY (Conservative,

THE BRITISH REVIEW (Whig). THE NORTH BRITISH REVIEW (Free Church). THE WESTMINISTER REVIEW (Liberal) BLACKWOOD'S EDINBURGH MAGAZINE (Tory).

The great and important events—Religious, Political and Military—now agitating the nations of the Old World, give to these Publications an interest and walve they never before possessed. They occupy a middle ground between the hastly written news-items, crude speculations, and flying rn more of the newspaper, and the ponderous Tome of the historian, written long after the living facts he records shall have passed away. The progress of the War in the East occupies a large space in their pags. Every movement is closely criticised, whether of friend or of foe, and all short-comings fearlessly pointed out. The letters from the CRIMEA and from the BALTIC in Blackwood's Magazius, from two of its most popular contributors, give a more intelligible and reliable account of the movements of the great belligerents than can elsewhere he found.

The Periodicals ably represent the three great political partress of Great Britain—Whig, Tory, and Radical—hit politics rorms only one leature of their charactor. As Organs of the most profound writer on Science, Literature, Morality, and Religion, they stand, as they ever have stood, unrivalled in the world of letters, heing considered undispensable to the scholar and the professional man, while to the intelligent reader of every class they furnish a nore correct and satisfactory record of the current literature of the day, throughout the world, than can be possibly obtained from any other source.

EARLY COPIES. The receipt of ADVANCE SHEETS from the British publishers gives additional value to these Reprints, especially during the passent exciting state of European affairs, inasmuch as they can now be obseed in the hands of subscribers about as soon as the original editi-
